SEED SWAP

a community of farmers and gardeners gathering to exchange seeds

When you share seeds, you share knowledge.

SEEDS GROWN AT COMMUNITY SEED GARDEN

1. Tarbais
2. Rio Zape
3. Golden Buddha
4. Scarlet Runner Bean
5. Aunt Jean's Pole Bean
6. Three Grex Beet
7. Curly Red Mustard
8. St. Valery Carrot
9. Red Kuri Squash
10. Thelma Sander's Sweet Potato Acorn Squash
11. Brightest Brilliant Quinoa
12. Floriani Polenta Corn

West County Community Seed Exchange
Sebastapol, CA
26 February 2013

SARA MC CAMANT SAYS THE ONLY REASON WE HAVE THE AMOUNT OF DIVERSITY AVAILABLE TO US RIGHT NOW IS BECAUSE PEOPLE HAVE SAVED SEEDS. They have passed them around, shared them, improved them, grown them, improved them again and given them to someone else. Seeds are literally the first link in a local food system. Because of seeds, people are coming together and sharing resources in a world that is crying out for more community; they're strengthening people's ability to grow their own food.