

'El Perfecto Sabores Cocinar Con Amor'

The durian is revered in southeast Asia for its large size, formidable thorn-covered husk and unique odor, which has led to the fruit's banishment from hotels and public transportation in Brunei, Indonesia and Malaysia.

← Cabal-

durian

CRISTINA
*From: São Paulo, Brazil
Business: "Kibab's Treats"*
She makes sweets she remembers from her childhood in Brazil.

AZALINA
From: Penang, Malaysia Business: "Agalmaz"
She teaches people about her culture through the stories behind her food.

VERONICA
*From: Mexico City
Business: "El Aguacache Locos"*
She brings classic street food from Mexico D.F. (Distrito Federal) to San Francisco.

ALICIA
*From: Mazatlan, Sinaloa, Mexico
Business: "Females Los Mayas"*
She translates Mayan cultural traditions into food, using generations-old family recipes.

*La Cocina
(Mission District)
San Francisco, CA
19 January 2011*

KITCHEN INCUBATOR

Helps entrepreneurs launch, grow and formalize food businesses which can provide real asset generation for their families

